

In June 2018 I was awarded a Vidi grant by the Netherlands Organization for Scientific Research (NWO). The project, entitled “Inequality against Freedom: Economic Power, Markets and Workplace”, will study the relationship between economic inequality, individual freedom, and the labour market.

A preliminary project description can be found here.

Open positions, including PhD fellowships, will be advertised in 2019.